

Scope to Participate at NFAIS's 58th Annual Conference as a Silver Sponsor

Chennai, India, February 12, 2016: Scope e-Knowledge Center (Scope), a leading provider of knowledge services and a Quattro Global Services company, is pleased to announce its participation at the forthcoming NFAIS 58th Annual Conference to be held in Philadelphia from February 21 – 23, 2016. Scope is proud to be one of the Silver sponsors of the event.

Scope's solutions help its customers build new digital content products or enhance existing ones by:

- 1 Collecting content (web-scraping, web harvesting)
- 2 Extracting relevant data (semantic term/concept/entity/relationships)
- 3 Cleansing, Standardizing & Normalizing data
- 4 Building knowledge repositories (Controlled vocabularies, taxonomies, thesauri or ontologies)
- 5 Annotating pieces of content according to these knowledge repositories
- 6 Improving Discoverability via better metadata such as abstracts/summaries and indexing

Scope works for leading publishers, information providers and global enterprises in addressing their content and data management needs. Our 1,000+ deep domain experts from many different disciplines (i.e. engineering, chemistry, health sciences, life sciences, humanities, social sciences, law, financial markets) work on top of our proprietary or industry leading platforms and produce results that are of very high standards. This is our key value-proposition – a techno-human solution to produce output that is higher in quality as compared to pure technology solutions and that is optimized for cost compared to pure manual offerings.

Mr. Punit Dhandhanian, Senior Vice-President, Content Strategy & Solutions, will represent Scope at the NFAIS Annual Conference.
